

Developing Curriculum Leadership

ENGAGE | CHALLENGE | INSPIRE

Facilitated by Gill Weston.

Gill is a freelance consultant with over 30 years' experience in education. She has been a senior leader and headteacher in primary schools, a school improvement partner and adviser, primary strategy manager and assistant director for education learning and skills. She has also worked as an Ofsted inspector. Gill now works across the Midlands with teaching schools and leadership groups, running professional development and coaching programmes to support middle and senior leaders in carrying out their roles effectively.

Developing Curriculum Leadership

This course is designed for foundation subject leaders, particularly those who are new to their role.

Over the course of three sessions you will have the opportunity to explore different aspects of the subject leader role, including in relation to the current Education Inspection Framework.

There will be opportunities to engage with reading and research to support your own professional growth as well as resources to use in planning your support for others.

You will explore:

- ◆ Intent: models of curriculum design and the underlying research informing the current inspection framework
- ◆ Implementation: supporting teacher development and pedagogy
- ◆ Impact: evaluating the effectiveness of your leadership on the practice of others and outcomes for pupils
